

AQUA EXPEDITIONS

TERMS AND CONDITIONS - 2011

Medical and Health:

Guests should be in good physical health in order to be able to make the most of their Amazon Cruise. Visiting the area involves the use of small motorized skiffs and at times may include some possible wet landings. The daily nature excursions may include walking on irregular terrain, and getting in and out of the skiffs occasionally requires some physical effort. Walking excursions may last up to one hour. Malaria and yellow fever vaccinations are not required for travelers coming into the region, but are recommended.

Insurance:

Travelers are strongly advised to purchase trip cancellation insurance, which will reimburse the cost of air tickets and other non-refundable trip payments. International medical, baggage loss and delay insurance are also recommended. M/V Aqua's operator assumes no liability for lost or stolen personal belongings.

Vessel Replacement:

Aqua Expeditions reserves the right to substitute another vessel for the M/V Aqua if considered necessary (i.e. force majeure or mechanical failure). If the travelers do not take this option, Aqua Expeditions reserves the right to cancel the trip upon a refund pro rata per cruise night not used or, as an alternative, will offer credit toward a future cruise on the Aqua.

The Pacaya Samiria Reserve:

The Pacaya Samiria Reserve is a protected area and visitors are required to comply with certain rules and regulations. The naturalist guide will inform passengers of these rules. The Pacaya Samiria Reserve and Aqua Expeditions, through the guide onboard, reserve the right to deny any passenger disembarkation for visits if any of these regulations are ignored or violated.

Dietary Needs:

Aqua Expeditions should be contacted at least 30 days prior to embarkation regarding travelers' specific dietary needs. Every effort will be made to cater to special dietary needs, and to accommodate special requests, subject to a given products' availability in Peru.

Travelers' Responsibilities:

Travelers have responsibilities toward both their fellow passengers and the Aqua Expeditions' crew. Every passenger should review the conditions contained in the trip itinerary, follow normal social behavior patterns with fellow passengers, observe all safety requirements on board and on excursions, and act in an appropriate and respectful manner toward the Aqua's crew members and their fellow travelers.
